INTRODUCTION

This book, with associated audio CD, is intended as a self study package for students to help pass the pre-CTA solo aviation listening and vocabulary test, as laid down in Flight Training Adelaide Operations Manual

The book is laid out in the order you will encounter the controllers radio calls on a flight into Adelaide.

Pilot transmissions are in this style of writing

Controller transmissions are in this style of writing

Pilot read backs or responses are in this style of writing

I suggest for the listening exercises that you first read through the answer section and note the required read backs or pilot response. Then using your workbook, listen to the calls and write down your read backs or response

I suggest you work through the book from the beginning. Generally you will find the answers to the exercises, on the page after the exercise.

We use recordings of actual student flights. If in doubt of the correct procedure, consult the pilot reference guide at the back of the book.

If you listen and read the answers only, there is a good chance that you think you understand, but under test conditions you will probably perform poorly in the test. You need to practice writing down your read back without looking at the answers. This is the only way you can confirm you actually understand and have heard all the instructions.

These exercises reflect the type of questions that are in the pre-CTA test, which is made up of a listening section and a vocabulary section. There are example type vocabulary questions in the book.
